The aim and scope:

This special session aims to discuss the effects of educational processes as they contribute to the improvement of human capital and as instruments of socio-territorial development. We welcome theoretical or empirical studies that analyze:

- The attraction and retention of students in the host regions of Higher Education Institutions;
- Adjusting the training offer in higher education to the demand for qualifications by the labor market;
- The transition of graduates to the labor market;
- The employability of graduates, that is, the ability to integrate into the labor market.
