

Special Session (SS21) on: Tourism, Migration, and Social Sustainability

Organizer:

Medéia Veríssimo

Assistant Professor, Portucalense University (medeia@upt.pt)

Makhabbat Ramazanova

Assistant Professor, Portucalense University (ramazanova@upt.pt)

The aim and scope:

The special session "Tourism, Migration, and Social Sustainability" explores the intersections between tourism and migration, and their relationships and impacts on social sustainability. It examines how tourism influences the sustainability of communities, shaping social dynamics and cultural identities. We welcome studies that analyze these complex connections and propose sustainable models for fostering inclusive and resilient communities in tourism destinations and organisations. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

1. Community Well-being and Sustainable Tourism
2. Community-Based Tourism and Local Empowerment
3. Human Capital and the Migrant Workforce
4. Labour Migration and Tourism Mobilities
5. Local Identities, Place Attachment, and the Transformation of Tourism Spaces
6. Local Involvement and Participatory Practices
7. Social Impacts of Tourism on Urban and Rural Communities
8. Tourism and Social Entrepreneurship
9. Tourism, Culture, and Social Identities
10. Tourism, Social Theory, and Sustainable Frameworks

SUBMIT ABSTRACT